Scribes Attend Fall Conference

The fall conference of the Northern Section, Journalism Association of Junior Colleges, will be held at Sacramento City College on October 31.

The keynote speaker will be Arthur Robinson, who once wrote for the New York American. He now lives in Volcano and writes a weekly column for the Sacramento Bee.

Five students, Robert Thompson, Violet Shiratsuki, Judy Wong, Jerry McFadden and Margaret Moran, will accompany Mr. Paul Johnson, Hartnell journalism instructor, on the trip.

Congressman Featured

The students will compete in various contests for prizes in newswriting, features, and sports. The students in the news contest will interview Congressman John E. Moss of the third Congressional District. Congressman Moss is the chairman of the sub-committee investigating governmental secrecy.

The members of the sportswriting contest will be shown a movie by the college coaching staff on which the material will be written.

A foreign student at the college will be interviewed by the feature wirting contestants. Dittoed leads will be given to the headline writers.

Sacramento Judges

Judges for the contest will be Tom Evans, Sacramento Union; Denny Daly, South Sacramento Shopper and Suburban Shopper; and Roy Herburger of the Galt Herald and Elk Grove Citizen. Photograph judges will be George Roberts and Joe Benetti, Sacramento press photographers.

Loy Laney, Sacramento City College, will lead a discussion group on business and advertising for those not entered in contests. Dr. Clyde Parker, Sacramento State, will give pointers on yearbook organization, and Dr. John Egan, of State, will talk about the relationships of press and public.

After lunch in the school cafeteria, there will be five panel discussions including industrial and technical writing, newspaper careers, public relations work, advertising and radio and television opportunities.

Hartnell Leaders Attend Sessions

Last Saturday three carloads of Hartnell student commissioners attended the Northern Region California Junior College Student Government Association Conference held at San Francisco City College.

The main items on the conference's agenda were the two general assemblies and the two workshop sessions.

There were ten workshops, each dealing with a phase of student life and student government. Hartnell was represented in each of the ten workshops.

In these workshops they represented their respective fields, gave suggestions and ideas, criticized and helped solve important problems prevalent on the various junior college campuses.

Those representing Hartnell at this conference were Bob Braun, Maynard Potter, Joanna Cruysen, Leo Tomasini, Judy Wong, Lynne Tavernetti, Jim Maloney, Judy Lucas, Paul Rauscher, Walter Sorensen, Bill Riddle, Pat Bardo, Sandra Cooper, Beverley Stolich, Jenny Pomo, and Miss June Handley, Hartnell Dean of Student Activities.

American River Junior College was selected as the site for the 1960 Spring Regional Conference.

This fall's state conference will be held November 19, 20 and 21 at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley. Hartnell will be represented at this conference.

Airport Rally Scheduled

This Friday at 12 noon, our football players are taking off by plane from the Salinas Airport to go to Boise. We are going to be there to see them off. At 11:35 when the 11 o'clock classes are dismissed, everyone with cars should line them up along Homestead (facing Alisal Street) and along Alisal Street (facing Main). Those without cars should head for the corner of Alisal and Homestead and jump in the first car you see that heading for the airport. At 11:40 sharp the car parade will start down Alisal Street and proceed through town and Alisal until we reach the airport. (As the time is very precious, it will be necessary that you do not go to your lockers but straight to your means of getting to the airport.) We will arrive at the airport at about 11:50 which will give us 10 minutes for a sendoff rally.

Now don't forget—time is very important if we want to get out there before the plane takes off. And don't forget to bring a full carload with you.

Student Store Has New Items

Hartnell sweatshirts for women are now on sale at the campus bookstore. These sweatshirts are gold with maroon letters spelling out "Hartnell College." In the middle of the shirts is a Hartnell panther face similar to the ones on the decals. The cost is $2.98 plus tax.

Newest additions this past week are bullfight posters printed in Spain. Travel posters of various countries are also being made available in the book store. Other types of posters are extremely colorful and would serve as excellent decorations. They sell for $1 each.

Study Aids

Sheaffer's student handwriting kits, valued at $3.44, are now on sale for only $1. These contain one Sheaffer fountain pen, a handwriting booklet and five Skrip cartridges.

A new type of lightweight pressboard binders can be purchased for 85 cents. These binders are hady and are sturdy enough to last for quite a while.

A handy study aid for chemistry students is the vised study card which is a simplified method for studying the chemical properties and their changes. These are recommended for review as well as for present studies.

Hartnell belts and buckles are still the week's special at a price of 98 cents. The buckle can be worn with any type of belt and is very fashionable.

BULLETIN!

All clubs and organizations should select their candidates for Homecoming Queen immediately. The final deadline for contestants to sign up is October 26; names should be turned into Maynard Potter, Interclub Council president and chairman of Homecoming Week activities.

Sport Enthusiasts Attend Foothill JC Play Day

Hartnell WAA, along with 16 other junior colleges, have been invited to attend a coed playday at Foothill College on November 7. The events scheduled are archery, bowling, volleyball, golf, and swimming.

The bus will leave Hartnell at 7:30 Saturday and return at 4:30. There is no charge for the day, but students are requested to bring their own lunches. Any students interested should see Shirley Crader, Nancy Willis, Bob Grossman or Mrs. Middaugh.

Nancy Willis is the Woman's Athletic Association candidate for Homecoming Queen. Nancy attended Salinas High School and is an Education major. She is secretary-treasurer of the WAA.

The men's gym will be opened on Wednesday noons at 12:15 for anyone interested in recreational badminton.

All Hartnell women interested in improving her tennis, skills or playing competitively for Hartnell, are urged to attend the practices on Tuesdays at 3:15 and on Thursdays at noon.

Students Receive Deficiency Notes

Deficiency notices for students who are not doing satisfactory work have been prepared and are being sent to the students home address.

The instructors may give deficiency notices to students who are failing or if the student is doing D level work and the instructor believes the student is capable of doing A or B work.

New IBM System

The IBM deficiency cards that are turned in to the general office are sorted and a second card will be produced in the IBM printing card punch machine. One card will be mailed to the student and the second card given to his counselor. A summary report listing all students receiving deficiency notices and the courses in which they receive notices will be reproduced and given to all instructors.

Pre-Registration Restricted

Any student who receives a total of six deficiency notices during the first semester will not be allowed to pre-register or register for the second semester until his grades have been received for the first semester. If these grades are so low that it appears that the student is not benefiting from our program of instruction he will not be allowed to register until after he appears before the Academic Council to explain his low academic achievement and why he feels he should be given another opportunity and be permitted to register for the second semester.

The next deficiency notices will be sent out after the end of the twelfth week, Friday, November 27.

Feline Added To Hart Cast

"Diary of Anne Frank" has now added a feline character to its cast. The cat, "Moushee", will be brought in by Peter, Robert Yost, when the family enters the warehouse during the first act.

The cat disappears finally after Peter has kept it in his room for several scenes. The feeling is that someone got rid of it because it was eating too much food.

Yost is now keeping the cat in his apartment and must watch its weight because it must appear thin in the production.

The cast is still looking for a copy of the Dutch national anthem. Any loyal Dutchman who

The Homecoming Game with Foothill College is the highlight of the week, along with the floats that will pay tribute to the football team, the Homecoming Queen, and the Rooters' Club. Each float is being allowed $25, donated from the unallocated funds of the student body.

Elected as club candidates as of press time for Homecoming Queen are Sue Tolan, Newman Club; Audrey Boutte, Associated Women Students; Connie Sauret, Rooters' Club; Diana Enochs, Jazz Club; Karen Struve, Ski Club; Pat Kerns, intervarsity Christian Fellowship, and Lynne Tavernetti, Drama Club. Candidates for queen will be introduced at the Homecoming Assembly.

At the half-time the Hartnell band will supply the music along with a mass of community school bands.

Ending the day will be the Homecoming Dance. Further announcement of the dance will be made in about two weeks from now in assembly.

La Reata Editor Named

■ Bob Thompson, new editor of the college yearbook, La Reata, discusses layout problems with Mr. Paul Johnson, advisor. Instead of being on a semester basis, the magazine type annual will be distributed in the spring, just before graduation. There will be more pages, but will retain the soft cover of previous years. This year's theme will show the life of the faculty and students here at Hartnell. The annual will be free to holders of student body cards; students without cards will have to pay a slight charge.

Editorial

Homecoming Planning Urged

Homecoming is less than a month away and we urge all those taking part in the festivities to begin plans now to insure a successful event. The various clubs and organizations wishing to sponsor queen candidates should hold elections as soon as possible and begin their publicity.

Homecoming week is always one of the big highlights of the fall semester and it is an affair in which everyone is needed to make it a success. Let's all do our utmost to have a really terrific Homecoming this year!

Use of Library Essential

As students of Hartnell College, we are extremely fortunate in possessing one of the finest junior college libraries in the state. The structure was built to satisfy the needs of students in study, research, and entertainment.

Now that the school term is well on its way, it is evident that many of us who had planned to spend those free hours sipping coffee in the cafeteria are discovering that the time can be put to better use in the library. We have all realized that studying during extra hours can result in added interest in the subject and better grades in the course.

It is a fact that in the library we can study, entertain ourselves, or just relax. There is a good supply of magizines available for browsing. Here is a suggestion to get more out of magazine reading: instead of concentrating solely on material in Life, Look, and Saturday Evening Post, try investigating between the covers of Time, Holiday, Atlantic Monthly or Fortune. We tend to avoid such periodicals for fear of finding uninteresting articles written above our heads. This is false and the sooner we establish a higher level of reading habits, the better off we will be.

There is something that the modern college student cannot do without nowadays — and that something is called research. Research can be exciting; it may consist of a week long search for hidden clues on the early religions of mankind or a short search of a man's accomplishment recorded in an encyclopedia. Research of all types are demanded of every college student. It is a part of college life and the more readily we accept it the more valuable our studies will be to us.

Schaub Tours With YMCA

By Sam LoBue

With two packed burros, an eager group of Y.M.C.A. boys and Mr. John Schaub, dean of extended day, and Mr. Hershel Scott, camp director at the Y.M.C.A., pushed off into the wonders of the Sierra, July 18.

Fishing was excellent, sights of Pinchot Muir and Mather passes, above 12,000 feet altitude, were beautiful, according to the adventurers. Swimming in the glacier lakes, killing rattlesnakes and eating rattlesnake meat — ah! — were all a part of the simple life of the great outdoors — this was camping?!: !

While tramping through Cedar Grove, Kings Canyon and Florence Lake, Mr. Scott broke his foot, but with that ole camp'n spirit in him, he kept up with the average of 16 miles a day. Joining Mr. Scott in his unfortunate experience was one of the burros who took sick after indulging in a poisonous plant.

To all great things there must come an end. After 15 days of long to be remembered experiences, the troop returned to Salinas at 2:00 a.m., Aug. 2.

The fees on this trip were $70 per person. This included all the necessities for the 12 boys, ranging from 14 to 16 years old.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

INFORMAL INFORMER

By Bob Thompson

JAZZ . . . JAZZ . . .

Have you heard? The Mastersounds, the jazz group that made such a big hit when it appeared at Hartnell last semester, has recently won the Down Beat International Critics Award. The Mastersounds were brought to us last semester through the hard work of the Hartnell Jazz Club and its enthusiastic sponsor, Dr. Duane Sandgren.

This year's Jazz Club president is Max Callao. Max (sometimes called Xam) is a real jazz enthusiast, and with the help of his fellow club members we can also expect a terrific jazz group this semester.

The information about the Mastersounds award appears in an article in the Oct. 18th edition of the Chronicle, in case you would like to read it.

DON'T DO IT . . .

As you all know it has been a practice in some colleges to hang the football coach in effigy if his team was not winning games.

Recently there has been talk of hanging Walter Sorenson, rally commissioner, in effigy because of the feeling that the rallys don't rally. This is not the right attitude, however. Being rally commissioner is a big job. Walter was good enough to run for the office when no one else wanted to, so let's give him a chance. He has something different planned for the rally this morning, so let's all get in together and make it a success.

FOR MEN ONLY . . .

Pompon girls? We got 'em! The Hartnell student body is very fortunate to have one of the finest groups of pom pon girls to be seen in northern California. Pom pon girls, first of all, should be able to do their routines well. Our pom pon girls not only do their routines well, they are very pretty. And there is nothing that makes a male student yell and sing loud than a pretty girl — except a Playboy magazine, maybe.

MONEY TALKS . . .

Rumors are that someone will ask commissions to remove the juke box from the cafeteria and replace it with a different mode of entertainment. It sounds like someone is knocking their head against a brick wall. Remember that juke box makes quite a bit of money, and money speaks louder than words.

NEW EDITION . . .

Our congratulations to Gary Thomas and wife. It was a baby boy delivered at Santa Cruz Hospital last Saturday morning.

EDITOR'S MAILBOX

To the Editor:

I offer an open inquiry directed to any or all of the student administration concerning the various types of adolescent behavior that, if not propagated, are at least tolerated at the home football games, especially the most recent one with Vallejo. I would appreciate some knowledge of the reasons for the playing of that damnable rock and roll music played over the P.A. system preceding and immediately following the game. Is it to promote school spirit?

It appears to this writer that much more controlled and dignified expression could have been achieved had the yell leaders tried to obtain some semblance of organization among the students in the reserved yelling section, through the use of such things as card stunts, etc. Furthermore, I don't understand why the ignoramous known as Tabby had to try his best to spoil the halftime act of the Vallejo cheerleaders, which, although nothing spectacular, was several cuts above anything the Salinas girls could come up with. Possibly, however, these young people were not reverting to their high school days; there is evidence to indicate that these emotionally immature individuals have never shaken themselves free of their high schoolish characteristics.

WHY is there so much rock and roll music played at the dances? It obviously appeals to the majority, but that alone does not necessarily make it right. The college, by definition alone, exists to cultivate the mature tendencies of an adult, and I can't believe this concept is being accommodated at the football games or at the dances.

This writer is not optimistic enough to believe that anything is going to be done, because the individuals who are interested in the academic qualities of this institution are in the minority, and because we have some people in responsible positions who should not be there, but possibly this editorial will start some people thinking about these matters.

Signed,
A Concerned Student.

WHAT OF IT?

By Jerry McFadden

Did you ever go to the library planning to study diligently? I'll admit it sounds live a novel idea but wait until you try it. If you are an average student chances are that you'll end up at a back table talking over old times with a friend. First, you catch up on the "dirt" of your mutual acquaintances. Then you discuss last summer's accomplishments and proceed to tell all about next vacation's plans.

Suddenly you are interrupted by the violent blast of a bell. "Time does fly," you gasp as you gather the books and spring for the door realizing you haven't completed history or your speech.

Maybe you are one of the intelligentsia who use the student union as a study hall. Have you tried reading Shakespeare to a rock'n roll beat? Try it sometime! You peer at your book through exhaled cigarette smoke. Your eyes burn and water as you read "Henry the Fourth" as "Big Hunk of Love" plays softly on the juke box.

TV READING

Then there's the quiet refuge of one's homework to catch up on Economics 1A. You read during the commercial while a pretty young thing is telling you how "Camels are best". Then the picture flashes on and Econ. is forgotten as Cheyenne catches the thief. Ever wonder why he never gets killed or seems to run out of bullets?

NEED TO CHANGE

After Alfred Hitchcock you stretch and wearily replace the textbook with a current novel Lady Chatterley's Lover. Finally to bed and still no work done.

Next day you decide to try the new record booths at Hartnell's new library. Everything is quiet as you adjust the set. Out comes the roar of a lion's mating call! Stupid, you gave the librarian the wrong call number. Finally, you get a copy of "South Pacific". This you realize is the only way to write a speech. So your speech does keep referring to "Honeybun." What of it!

Foothill Joins Coast League

By the time Foothill college, one of the Coast Conference's newest members, moves into its new 121-acre campus in the Los Altos hills in 1961, the full-time enrollment will reach at least 2,300, according to the Palo Alto Times in a series of articles this past summer. At the present, 1,100 freshman and sophomore day students and 1,150 evening students make up the student body. The temporary campus is located at the old Highway school in Mountain View.

The faculty totals 59, an increase of 24 from last spring. Dean of Instruction H. H. Semans stated that the Foothill faculty is one of the "best junior college faculties in the state." His reason was that forty per cent of their instructors have doctor's degrees; the state average is only 10 per cent, according to Semans.

The students are required to take 64 units of work in all majors in addition to requirements in science, social science, language arts, fine arts, health and physical education.

During the summer many temporary portable classrooms were constructed in preparation for the increase in the enrollment. These same portables will be moved to the new campus in 1961.

At the new Los Altos Hills campus, the college buildings will be on a plateau while the lower areas will be for parking facilities. Eight major buildings, in addition to the library, will be found on the plateau — science, language arts, campus center, physical education (including football and track field), business education and social science, administration, auditorium and arts. A total of 150 courses in 30 different fields are available.

Total cost of construction will be near $10,000,000. The college is being built for a 3,000 student capacity. Foothill college's grid team, "The Owls," will travel to Salinas Nov. 14 for the first meeting between the two schools.

Standard of Living Impresses Foreigner

By Violet Shiratsuki

"When I came to this country I was impressed most with the high standards of living," Dionisio Olimba, foreign student from the Philippines, stated in an interview. After almost two years in Salinas he is quite accustomed to American ways.

Asked why he decided to pursue higher education in an American college and why he specifically chose Hartnell, Dionisio stated, "I came to the United States to 'push' my studies. While going to Hartnell I'm able to live with my two sisters in Salinas."

U. S. Studies Easier

He is presently majoring in business administration although at first he previously had intentions of studying medicine. Questioned what he thought of Hartnell and what is his favorite subject, he quickly stated, "The methods of teaching are so different here. Back home courses are so much harder. I like English the best because it's a universal language."

After completing his four semesters at Hartnell, Dionisio wants to transfer to one of the colleges in San Francisco. The reason why is that he has some relatives in the city.

Like most young men Dionisio likes sports. Right now his interests are centered in football. It is a sport new to him for it is not played in his native country.

1959 Choir Officers, Members Selected

"A fine choral group requires a balance between voice parts. At this point, the women's section outnumbers the men's section four to one. Ten tenors and ten basses are needed to alleviate the disparity.

"The choir is one of the organizations which can place Hartnell College before the public view. We have the potential of a good choir and hope to continue a tradition of fine choral music at Hartnell."

These are the comments of Director Vahe Aslanian regarding the Hartnell choral group.

To join the choir Mr. Aslanian asks for just one prerequisite of the prospective member. "He must like to sing," he emphasized. "My job is to teach him how," he added.

Yule Program

The choral group meets daily at 1 o'clock. Students who are interested in arrangements, which can be made also for a three-day or two-day schedule, may check with Mr. Aslanian in Room 22.

The group is preparing for a Christmas program. Among the pieces being prepared are "Christmas Cantat" by Daniel Pinkham, for four part voices and double brass choirs, and "A Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten, for women's voices and harp.

The bass groups are being trained by Mr. Lorell McCann ant Mr. Robert Lee.

Choir officers are: president, Fred Crummey; secretary, Janet Woodard; in charge of publicity, Santiago Flores; head librarian, Susie Wilson.

Other officers are robe mistresses, Sally Davison and Yvonne Scettrini, and section monitors, Ellis Wheeler, bass; Joe Palacio, tenor; Josephine Chocero, alto, Jolene Londy, soprano.

Peavys Enioy Latin Trip

By SAM LoBUE

Last summer several Hartnell teachers experienced long-to-be-remembered vacations.

One such vacation that comes to mind is the Peavy's trip to Mexico and South America.

Starting bright and fresh June 14, Mr. G. Darwin Peavy and his wife, Katherine, started things off with a bang. Yes sir, those Peavy's started things off with a bang, all right — they banged right into a car on Blackwell Avenue. The opposing car (and wow, was he opposing) rolled over. Mr. Peavy's car came out of it with a mangled bumper and luckily no one was hurt.

Travel Difficulties

Do you think this discoraged Mr. and Mrs. Peavy Why, not at all! Getting their car on the road again, they eventually entered Mexico City.

While traveling through northern Mexico they noticed there were many dirt roads. There were many narrow bridges, where only one car at a time could enter.

But still wanting to enlarge their scope of observation, they went on to tour Guatemala, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Ecuabor and Peru.

Mr. Peavy summarized his trip by adding that the things you read about and hear about these countries can never be imagined until you have seen them for yourself. This was truly a beautiful and a long to be remembered trip.

To those who haven't had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Peavy, you may see him instructing the art of gymnastics and tennis, as well as courses in business machines.

Origin of Tabby And Tabbyette

It appears that every school must have its mascot, and to Hartnell College came the panther.

Now way back in the roarin' days our Tabby consisted of just a head representing a fightin' panther.

As years passed at Hartnell, students finally decided to add a body to the panther head. That is the origin of the Tabby we see at our football games and rallies.

Still more years went by and many changes were made at Hartnell. One of these changes was the presentation of Tabbyette two years ago. Tabbyette has contributed a lot to Hartnell, to say nothing of the companionship she is to Tabby.

This happy couple contribute a lot in raising our school spirit.

The Hartnell students salute our Tabby and Tabbyette, a truly spirited pair.

Hart Instructor Spends Summer on Continent

By JUDY WONG

"Beautiful Paris women . . . gay Parsian life . . . hair-raising climb up the Eiffel Tower . . . delicious filet steak dinners for $1.25 . . . towering Buckingham Palace . . . captivating Copenhagen . . . the enchanting Black Forest . . . fairy tale castles . . . wonderful vacation; I'll never forget it," sighed Dr. Duane Sandgren, Hartnell dean of counseling services, as he reminisced of the European sojourn he and his wife made this past summer.

Visits Brother

They traveled by plane to New York and from the metropolitan city flew to London. After viewing Wales, Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey and Oxford University, the couple went to Paris, purchased a Triumph TR3 and visited Dr. Sandgren's brother who is a student at the Sorbonne and who accompanied the travelers to several of the countries.

Germany, Switzerland (no attempt was made to ascend the Matterhorn), Luxemburg, Belgium, Holland, Ireland, Denmark, Norway, Scotland, and Sweden were all included in the Sandgren's itinerary. While in Paris they were amidst the bustle and excitement of the Bastille Day celebration. The Palace of Versailles was also a main highlight of their visit to this famed city.

Relationship Non-existent

Heidelberg, Germany, completely captured the hearts of the couple and as a token of their memorable trip there, they returned home with a few of the famous Heidleburg beer mugs. In conversation with a man in Norway who had received his master's degree from Columbia University, Dr. Sandgren learned that the friendly and informal faculty-student relationship is non-existent, while in America this is a common practice.

In Paris Dr. Sandgren spoke with a 16-year-old student who had just passed the entrance exam required for acceptance by the university. The student remarked that each year 50,000 persons take this test but only a mere 2,000 actually are able to pass them satisfactorily. According to Dr. Sandgren the knowledge the student had accumulated up to the time of the exam seemed almost equivalent to the knowledge acquired by a student at the conclusion of his four years of American collegiate studies.

Dutch Friendly

"It was very warm in Europe, it was the hottest summer there in 80 years and the hottest in England in 200 years. The people were rationing their water supply. In Frankfurt, Germany, it was 120 degrees," said Dr. Sandgren.

Panthers Trample Diablo Vikings 28-0

The Hartnell eleven won their third game of the season as they rolled over Diablo Valley. In the middle of the opening period Hartnell began to roll, after the Harts received a punt on their own 50-yard line, they began to spark with Jim Fahey, Vern Horton, Chris Machado carrying the ball down to the two, where with good blocking Fahey ran for pay dirt; Horton's kick was good and Hartnell took the lead, 7 to 0.

Hartnell kicked off and Diablo after three plays tried to punt but tackle Tom Mead blocked it and the Harts recovered the ball on the Diablo Valley eight yard line. From here Machado moved to the six and on three plays went into the end zone for the six points. Horton's kick was good and at the half Hartnell had a 14 to 0 lead.

Diablo Valley kicked off and Hartnell's Charlie Green ran it back to his own 40. From here the Panthers marched down the field in ten carries and Horton smashed over for the six points. His kick was blocked and the Panthers had a 20 to 0 lead. After Hartnell kicked off the Panthers stopped the Diablo drive so the latter had to punt into the end zone and Hartnell got the ball on their own 20-yard line. From here the boys of Maroon and Gold marched down the field in 14 plays to the three-yard line where Fahey smashed for another six points. Machado ran for the two point conversion and Hartnell led 28 to 0.

From that point on Larry Sterling's Red Demon crew took over and both Hartnell and Diablo Valley played to an even fourth quarter.

In winning, Hartnell suffered a loss in tackle Norm Coleman who received an ankle injury. He will be out for the rest of the year.

Total statistics of Hartnell's four games to date are:

	Harts	Opponents
Team scoring	100	7
Ttl. yd.s gained	1,139	572
Total yards Gained	1,139	572
Yards gained Rushing	844	348
Passes attempted	47	52
Passes completed	19	18

Cindermen Look Good But Lose Meet to Diablo

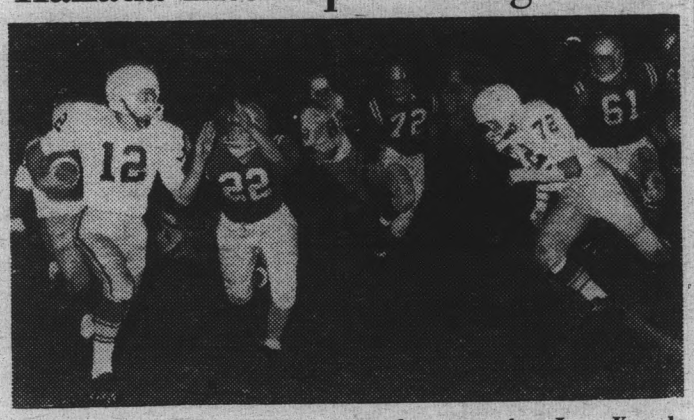
The Panther cross country team lost a close duel to the Diablo Valley College team by the score of 29 to 27 at Concord Saturday.

In the race both first and second place finishers broke the record for this rugged course. Tim Jordan, of Diablo, did it when he crossed the finish line just a second before Hartnell's own Stuart Friend. The fact that Tim Jordon is only a freshman and was the first time he has ran all year is really fantastic.

Other members of the Hartnell cross country team who finished in the top ten spots were Dennis Davidson, fifth; Bruce Logan, sixth; Truman Bankston, seventh, and Bob Rackley, ninth.

The Panther cross country team matches legs with King City high in a non-league tilt on the Hartnell course this Friday at 4 p.m. See you there.

Kanada Intercepts Viking Aerial



■ High point of the action last Saturday came when Jerry Kanada intercepted a Viking pass to help Hartnell's Panthers defeat Diablo Valley by a score of 28 to 0. Shown here is the fleet quarterback (Number 12) streaking for the sideline where he was bounced out of bounds. Game was marked by hard defensive play as usual and Coach Blue's use of every player on the bench. Indicating Hartnell dominence are yards-gained-rushing figures: Hartnell, 259 yards; DV, 70. Panthers gained 20 first downs; DV, 5.

Panthers Meet Broncos at Boise

When the Panthers meet the Broncos tomorrow night in Boise, both teams will be playing in the dark, not knowing very much about each other or their respective strengths. The barrier of distance (some 800 miles) has prevented live scouting. And the two schools have no other opponents in common to provide an index to capabilities.

Representing a football-minded school and area, Boise Broncos were rated number one JC in the nation in preseason calculations. After losing their first game to Santa Monica, the Broncos have had a successful season this year.

Traditionally Boise has produced powerhouse teams which have been featured in six post-season bowl games in the past ten years.

A look at the Broncos record since 1947 reveals that Boise teams have won 109 games while losing eight and tying three.

What Makes Pop Corn Pop?

Popping corn contains water. When the water gets hot enough, the kernel explodes. Result: popcorn.

We're not passing this information along as a public service. Actually we're up to the same old game.

You see, popcorn makes most people thirsty. Fortunately, when most people get thirsty they hanker for the good taste of Coca-Cola.

Wouldn't you like some popcorn right now? C'mon now, wouldn't you?
